Environmental

Our professionals are qualified to assist clients with respect to a wide range of environmental matters. We perform preventive counseling in environmental licensing procedures, environmental and real property legal due diligence, and consulting on forestry legislation and run-off/waste disposal issues, among others. We represent clients in judicial proceedings, including the defense of environmental actions brought by public authorities, embargo proceedings to block the execution of environmental assessments, and actions for environmental civil liability. We also act on behalf of clients in administrative proceedings, such as environmental assessments and investigative proceedings for environmental damage and management of contaminated areas. Our services in the administrative sphere include the negotiation and implementation of Agreements for the Adjustment of Conduct with public prosecutors and environmental agencies.
